History OF SCCC

St. Clair Country Club a traditional, private, full service, family-oriented, social club located in the West End of Belleville, Illinois. St. Clair CC is one of the finest golf facilities in the St. Louis Metropolitan area and has been known for many years for its challenging, beautifully maintained golf course. St. Clair CC offers a full range of recreational and social amenities and contributes to the Belleville economic progress.

Founded in 1909, St. Clair has a distinctive character which combines facilities and service with a friendly atmosphere. The fundamental policy at St. Clair has always been that the Club exists for the use and enjoyment of its members. St. Clair's facilities and recreational programs are relatively uncrowded and easily accessible to the members.

Through the years, St. Clair has produced many quality golfers. Bill and Harvey Mertz brought honor early in the Club's association within the St. Louis District. The 1968 Masters Champion, Bob Goalby, was introduced to golf here at St. Clair Country Club in 1938 as a caddy. Jay & Jerry Haas, Bob Goalby's nephews, also got their start at the Club before becoming major contenders in the game.

Not many golf clubs hold the distinction of having three golf professionals, (Bob Goalby, Jay Haas, and Frank Conner), play in the same Masters Tournament as St. Clair CC did in 1985. Also, we would like to mention Frank Conner, who holds the distinct accomplishment of playing in the U.S. Open in both golf and tennis. Lastly, talented tennis star, Jimmy Connors, grew up in the St. Clair Country Club atmosphere and visits when not busy with the Senior Tennis Tour.

Making member memories for over a century.
